FORTY-FIRST YEAR, No. 31

WORK ON O. S. T. IN CO. RAPIDLY PROGRESSING; COMPLETION NEARING

Only Short Distance of Gravel Unlaid—Three Miles Remain for Prime Coat—Asphalt Mixture For Top Coating Has Begun—Completion In Sight.

All except nine-tenths of a mile has been gravelled, all but three miles has prime or the oil coating on it and about one and a half mile has received its black top or asphalt surface, on that portion of the Old Spanish Trail west of Bay St. Louis which the state highway department is paving, according to information obtained from M. W. Willis, Mendenhall, in charge of the gravel work, and H. L. Smith, Hattiesburg, road foreman. "Work is progressing satisfactorily all along the line of the road being built, and probably within another month all of the roadway will be hard surfaced," they stated.

The heads of departments moved their base of operations to Bay St. Louis last week and are working from westward from there, except the black top crews which are working from the west side of the road connecting with the road built last year from the state line. With the full crew at work on the black top paving approximately a mile a day can be laid but work is not moving quite this fast due to the delivery of materials.

Approximately 125 persons are employed on this road work, this including skilled and common labor. Local men are being used in all except skilled labor jobs and in some instances the men who took the machinery to the scene of present operations taught local men to operate the machines and they were sent back to their homes. "We are in every instance possible using local labor on the entire project," Mr. Willis and Mr. Smith stated. They explained the method used in employment. "As we moved from one part of the road to the next we left off those from whose section we were leaving and employed those residents along the road where we were working at the time, thus giving everyone a chance for part of the work." After moving to Bay St. Louis this same arrangement was followed and practically every person who applied for a job got it, he said.

B. C. Batson, Hattiesburg, assistant engineer in charge of the job, and all of the men working are pushing the work as fast as possible, in keeping with the wish of J. F. Thames, highway commissioner for the Southern district, to complete the road at the soonest possible time. The entire road is open to traffic now and no difficulty whatsoever is found in its use, even the short ungravelled stretch causing no trouble.

L. & N. ACCEEDS TO WISH OF CITY COUNCIL AND WILL RUN EXCURSION

Other Coast Cities Join Bay St. Louis In Request—Resumption of Old-Time N. O. Dollar Excursion on Week-Day Hailed With Pleasure.

Recently the board of Mayor and Commissioners of the City of Bay St. Louis adopted a resolution wherein they asked the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company to again inaugurate their Wednesday Dollar excursions from New Orleans to Ocean Springs and back, as prior to the world war time.

There was nothing more popular in the line of outings than the Wednesday excursion. It was largely patronized and many women and children took advantage of the mid-week trip. And again, many who could not leave home on Sunday took advantage of the week-day trip.

The resolutions were addressed to the L. & N. and also copies to the boards of commissions of other cities, Gulfport and Biloxi, in particular. These cities promptly took their cue from the city board of Bay St. Louis and they, too, petitioned the railroad company.

How well the resolutions succeeded is best told in a letter which the Bay St. Louis commissioners received this week from J. K. Ridgely, general passenger agent, at New Orleans, which is addressed to Mayor Chas. Traub, Sr., F. H. Eploff, and S. J. Linder, commissioners. The text of the letter follows:

"Gentlemen: Your letter of July 9th enclosing copy of resolution passed by the Board of Mayor and Commissioners of the City of Bay St. Louis, at their meeting on July 10th regarding Wednesday Excursion from New Orleans to the Gulf

CARD PARTY NETS CHURCH DEBT FUND UNUSUAL AMOUNT

The sum of seventy-five dollars was netted as a result of a card party given on Thursday last at the Bay-Waveland Yacht club building, benefit debt fund church Our Lady of the Gulf.

The party was directed by Rev. Father Leo F. Fahey, during the absence of the pastor, Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, and was managed by Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey, who, as hostess of the affair, scored a signal success, and to whom Father Fahey justly gives credit.

Mrs. Fahey worked indefatigably and her untiring efforts were rewarded liberally. The party, incidentally, was one of much enjoyment. There were twenty-two tables of players and the guests enjoyed the affair doubly, socially and for the cause of the benefit.

Coast, was duly received. Similar resolutions were adopted by the cities of Gulfport and Biloxi.

"While there is considerable doubt in our own minds as to whether these Wednesday excursion trains will prove profitable under present conditions, yet in view of the fact you and your other friends on the Coast apparently are anxious for us to re-establish the mid-week excursions from New Orleans, we have decided to give them a trial beginning Wednesday, August 3rd. We cannot start them prior to that time for various reasons.

"As we are establishing the Wednesday excursions primarily because our Gulf Coast friends have asked for them I am greatly in hopes that the Bay St. Louis commercial organizations, as well as other commercial organizations on the Coast will cooperate with us in popularizing these excursions in New Orleans. I believe a great deal could be accomplished along these lines by placing ads in the New Orleans papers featuring the attractions of the Gulf Coast, such ads to appear in connection with advertisements we are running announcing the re-establishment of the excursions. Won't you please give this suggestion some consideration?"

In accordance with the above, the first Wednesday excursion will run next week, August 3, and it is hoped it will be well patronized in order it may be continued through the summer, at least.

COAST DISTRICT WINS PRIZE AT LEGION CONVENTION

Bay St. Louis Wins For Greatest Increase in Membership and Wiggins for Reaching Quota

District 6 of the American Legion Auxiliary captured two of the most coveted state department prizes at the recent state convention in Biloxi. The department's award for the greatest per cent in increase in membership for the year went to Bay St. Louis with the record of 350 per cent increase, in other words, this unit has more than trebled its membership quota. Mrs. C. S. Everts, Gulfport, former state president and last year's district president for District 6, reports that all of the 13 units in District 6, were represented at the state convention, the first time in the history of a state convention in which every unit of a district was in attendance. One of these units, Lucedale, with a membership of 24 had 13 in attendance at the convention.

Of the 13 units in the 6th district, 8 exceeded their membership quotas and 6 of these 8 had more than doubled their membership. Those doubling were: Bay St. Louis, Columbia, Piquette, Poplarville, Wiggins, and Lucedale, the other two making their quotas were Biloxi and Pascagoula.

At the convention Mrs. Everts was re-elected unanimously president of District 6, but later when the American Legion made a re-districting of the state, the Auxiliary followed the plan and the Coast area became part of District 9, and Mrs. Everts was elected president of District 9, which includes the following counties, Marion, Lamar, Forest, Perry, Green, Pearl River, Stone, George, Harrison, Hancock and Jackson. Mrs. Everts announces that the first district meeting of this new district will be held at Wiggins in October.

In addition to being elected District 9 president, Mrs. Everts was appointed Americanism chairman for the state department.

INJURED IN AUTO WRECK

Mr. and Mrs. B. Spotorno And Six Children En Route To Memphis Severely Hurt.

After spending a week here enjoying a delightful vacation, Mr. and Mrs. B. Spotorno and their six children left Bay St. Louis at an early hour Tuesday morning in the family auto en route to their home in Memphis.

Reaching the highway nine miles south of Hattiesburg the car struck loose gravel and swerved from the roadway and plunged down into a ditch. With Mr. and Mrs. Spotorno were their children: Edith, 17, Loretta 13, Gerald and Geraldine, twins, age 7 Joyce 11, and Arthemise 9. None escaped injury, all were severely shaken and bruised.

News of the accident was telephoned on to Hattiesburg where they were taken to the Methodist hospital in an ambulance of the Hulet Undertaking Company.

Mr. Spotorno gave the following to the press: He with his family were proceeding toward Hattiesburg from Bay St. Louis where they had been visiting relatives. As they were rounding the curve on the Camp Shelby hill on Highway 49-E the car struck loose gravel and he lost control.

The car, he says, left the road and plunged into the ditch turning completely around heading toward the coast and did not turn over. All were thrown out of the car but two.

Mr. Spotorno received lacerations about the head, five stitches necessary to close the gap and Joyce, who was unconscious for twelve hours, was hurt about the neck and lower part of the face. Gerald's arm was severely hurt and its condition was undetermined at first.

The family were brought back to Bay St. Louis Wednesday evening late and are again at their former dwelling receiving treatment.

Mr. Spotorno is a railway mail clerk at the Grand Central Station in Memphis and resides at 1165 South Wellington street, Memphis.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF WAVELAND'S CHURCH BENEFIT FOR AUGUST

Saturday and Sunday, 6 and 7, Anticipated Days—Edw. C. Carrere, Chairman.

Annual open air benefit for St. Claire's church at Waveland is announced for Saturday and Sunday, August 6 and 7, and parishioners and visiting friends of the faith and church are rallying in a manner which is easy to prophesy the affair will be the equal success of its predecessors.

Rev. Father Costello, pastor, expressed himself gratified at the many manifestations noted on every side. An unusual interest seems to have developed, he says, and this sentiment is encouraging to the ladies and gentlemen in charge and will prove an incentive for that work that spells success. Mr. Edw. C. Carrere, general chairman, is pleased at the outlook and is working untiringly to justify his anticipations.

Mrs. Edw. C. Carrere, a leader in the work of church activities, also expresses satisfaction and is also of the opinion the annual fair will go over big, and others equally as prominent are of the same trend of thought.

The scene of this summer festival will be shifted this year, however. A decided change from custom and well known change of tradition. No affair of the kind seemingly could be held elsewhere but on the church grounds. But this year the scenes of booths and gay decorations will be changed from the beach to the business section in Coleman avenue, where the street is wide, hard-surfaced and the crowds may go to and fro at ease and with plenty of room for patrons. Headquarters will be at the old schoolhouse, with dancing for those who enjoy such pleasure.

Extraordinary Offer By Local Tire Dealer To Automobile Owners

Arceneaux's Service Station, on the beach and R. R. Crossing, carries an advertisement in this issue of The Echo wherein a offer of more than ordinary interest and value is made to tire owners wishing to trade for new ones.

For three days only, July 28, 29 and 30, from $6.00 to $18.00 offered for worn tires in trade for new Goodyear. As this offer began yesterday and is good for today and tomorrow only, the time is limited. Mr. Arceneaux says there is no better time than the present to renew the old worn tires for new and good ones at that. He says the Goodyear value speaks for itself.

Tonsil Clinic For Bay St. Louis School Children Announced

The Parent-Teacher Association of Hancock County has arranged with Dr. Kotz Allen to have a tonsil clinic every Saturday in August. Parents of children whose tonsils are to be removed, are advised to communicate with Mrs. Sidney Prague of the Convention P. T. A., Mrs. Horace Kergosien of the County Association, Mrs. R. B. Logan or Mrs. Jas. A. Evans of the Central P. T. A., and to bring the child to the clinic on the Saturday preceding that on which the operation is to be performed, for an examination.

UNDERCOVER MEN CHARGED WITH DIS- GRACEFUL CONDUCT

Judge August Ruhr Sentences Jones and Phelps of Gulfport to Three Months and $50.00.

Arrested at Gulfport by Deputy Sheriff I. T. W. Mitchell, armed with the proper warrants, Mark Phelps and Robert (Bob) Jones, "attachees of the district prohibition enforcement force, were tried before Judge August Ruhr, justice of the peace for District No. 5, located at Waveland, Saturday, charged with fighting and disturbing the peace, and given a sentence of three months each in the county jail and a fine of $50.00.

Both Phelps and Jones are what is commonly called undercover men. It is said they go out in the open and entrap those who probably might be under suspicion of violating the federal prohibition laws. District Enforcement Agent H. M. Dailey, who defended the men in the court, said they were "informers" and duped all other oprobrious terms.

It appears both men, who were instrumental here last week in procuring supplies from local residents upon which a charge might be made of "having in possession and selling," were around the Waveland depot premises, after making an arrest at a place of business in Waveland, and were exhibiting deadly weapon and Prohibition enforcement agents, headed by Enforcement Officer Ferguson of Gulfport, paid a visit to Bay St. Louis and vicinity last Thursday afternoon and found reason and evidence for arresting Peter J. Boudin, Jack Williams, A. Camilucci and Emile Lind and O. M. Villere, the latter two of Waveland, as alleged by them.

The more spectacular raid was made at the Boudin residence and place of business, both in a combined building in Third street. Some thirty-one bottles of wine and 365 bottles of home-brew beer destroyed. In addition to destroying the bottles contents, the men, two at first and one additionally later, entered the store department and destroyed empty bottles that were carried as part of the legitimate stock, Mr. Boudin said.

Mr. Boudin stated that two men, dressed as to appear they were visiting fishermen entered his place of business and called for beer and ingratiated themselves to the extent that Mr. Boudin took them through the home and entertained them without the slightest suspicion. They asked for a little drink of whiskey, Mr. Boudin said, and having a small private supply for family use in time of sickness or necessity, gave them the desired drink. They bought beer another time.

They were bent on destroying the bottles on the floor in the house. Mrs. Boudin insisted that they resort to outdoors as there would be great deal of work to clean up the place and that she would have to do. She suggested that their (Boudin's) truck be brought to the door and the stuff destroyed therein in order the debris could be carted away without further handling, to which Mr. Ferguson, directing the work, agreed.

Other places raided, it was said small quantity of whiskey was found, and the charge of possession and selling filed.

Mr. Villere at the time was going to the bath. The officer entered the privacy of the place and read the warrant and remained until Mr. Villere was dressed.

All men were arrested and taken to Gulfport. Mr. Boudin said he was placed in the Harrison County jail, remained that evening and spent the night, without the privilege of communication. However, the next morning the men were admitted to bail and the charges and affidavits filed made returnable January 2, 1933.

All of the citizens arrested and charged as above are long residents of this community and well-known, representing some of the oldest families of this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Boudin made this joint statement.

DESPICABLE METHODS.

NO one is justified in violating the law, regardless of circumstances, or condition. But shady methods of establishing a charge, which is resorted to only too often, in prohibition officers' smacks of the despicable.

No one can entertain anything but contempt for a law and the head of government that enacts and proceeds to enforce it under circumstances which allow men to go under cover and practically force a violation.

The idea of employing men who snoop and buy a drink under guise of friend rather than foe is the lowest form of depravity. Such men are violators of the prohibition law in principle and moral just as the man who sells it, and how the government can condone such double-crossing and double-dealing is beyond all reasonable thought. Surely no self-respecting man or woman would enter such a contract with the ultimate idea of enforcing a law.

It is not practiced in other channels where it might be feared the law is possibly violated. Such methods are low and despicable. There is no excuse for it, save only, and that is remote in justification, that it takes a thief to catch a thief.

O. S. T. HIGHWAY SURFACED.

THE hope is expressed that there will be as much praise expressed when the O. S. T. highway in Hancock county is completed as there has been condemnation prior to the time of the present attention which is transforming the old into the new.

One traveling over the road cannot but note the fine condition and precautions taken for safety. Sharp curves and corners will no longer conceal danger to the unwary motorist.

The trip from New Orleans to Bay St. Louis will be reduced by considerable time, possibly one-third and the protection to wear and tear on the car afforded by such smooth surfaced road and reduction in amount of fuel consumed, are elements not to be lost sight of.

We cannot too highly endorse the efforts of those who have made these changes. We hope the public will use the road, enjoy it and benefit by the outlay of thought and money that has made it a reality.

We are too prone to condemn, to complain, to criticize; and too reluctant to give praise where it belongs.

"ONLY THROUGH ADVERTISING."

LEADERS of the paint business along the Pacific Coast, gathered at San Francisco the other day and heard C. H. Sondhaus, Comptroller of the National Lead Company, declare that continued advertising is one of the principal means by which industry, particularly the paint industry, can regain its former state of prosperity.

He said, "Advertising has been tried by time, even as it is being tried now, but it has proved its worth. It is through advertising that the paint industry made such wonderful strides in the past and if we are to maintain our position, it can be done only through advertising."

So far as The Echo knows, Mr. Sondhaus is not interested in the publication of any advertising medium. He gave his advice to paint men because it was what he believed. It is possible, of course, that he is wrong, but, on the other hand, it is likewise possible that he is absolutely correct.

W. O. W. FINE WORK.

DRIVING in the suburbs of San Antonio, Texas, where the hills are high and the scenery picturesque, beyond Sunset Hill, one is impressed with one building that stands out prominently against the unusual back ground with an overhead sky of perpetual sunshine and climate the like of which has no equal.

This the Woodmen of the world home for tuberculosis patients from the ranks of a nationwide membership. Here are many from different places who, possibly otherwise, would be unable to make the change to the health-giving Mecca and possibly left at home to perish from the unchecked ravages of the white plague.

A most humane gesture, surely, and the W. O. W. maintaining this haven of hope has thereby established one of the most meritorious of the many attributes of the order.

The pity about it is that the fool who rocks the boat doesn't always drown.

If the end of the world would come tomorrow it might end the depression.

The days are not getting any longer but they are not getting any cooler, either.

According to the experts, contract bridge is the solvent for all the ills of the world.

The old-fashioned citizen is still busy studying the differences in the party platforms.

People who die and leave their money behind them spend a lot of valuable time thinking how much fun they are going to get out of the money they hoard.

HEROES OF THE DEPRESSION.

WITH signs of return of normal conditions, or improvement, at least, while we are inclined to jubilee one cannot but fall into retrospection.

Going over the past two or three years there have been genuine heroes. Men and women who have held their chins up, smiled and worked on. Their spirit has never faltered, their efforts never lagged, and surely these have been trying times.

We wish to give the hand to the business man who has kept up not only the morale of his business, regardless of how hard it has been. To the men, especially, who have kept shoulder to the wheel and help put the community through and over the depression or whatever period one may wish to call it.

In Bay St. Louis we have business men who have not stinted on their public obligations in the least. They have rallied to the town when it needed their support.

They have kept their memberships in Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, fraternal and benevolent associations, charitable and benevolent orders, and gave their usual tithe to the church and religious orders.

These are the true heroes of the depression. They did not abandon the ship. The words of Sir Lawrence still live in their make-ups.

No one loves a quitter. When the return of normal conditions will have been established it will be well to remember those who stuck to their guns. Those who were loyal and steadfast, and forgot those who shift their sails to catch every rift of wind.

And to those who are in business, if there be any here, who are identified with none of the community endeavor, who give nothing and take all, it might be well to allow them to remain dead. It is a poor citizen who is not actively identified with his city.

A hearty welcome awaits the subscriber who comes in and pays up his subscription on a hot day.

It is never too wrong to advertise. The Colgate-Palmolive-Peet company dropped its dividend rate from 62 and one half cents to 25 cents a share rather than curtail its advertising.

OVER-PRODUCTION NOT TO BLAME.

THOSE who attempt to explain the present world-wide depression by attributing it to over-production, overlook several important facts.

In the first place, they forget the vast potential market that exists among the agricultural people of his country if they were able to farm profitably and raise their standard of living. The same observation applies to a large extent, to the farming class of other nations.

In the second place, regions like China and India, teeming with millions of human beings living, as a rule, upon the bare essentials of life, would provide the impetus for a real boom if the income of these millions could be slightly increased. Take China, for instance, with its estimated one-half billion population. Its effect upon the markets of the world could hardly be exaggerated if anything like better times dawned upon that helpless country.

The growers of cotton, wheat, and livestock in the United States suffer today because many millions of people on this globe cannot buy. Given the increased consumption that would necessarily follow the peaceful and profitable development of these foreign areas, the market prices of almost all commodities would react upward immediately. First to feel this advance would be the great essentials of life—the products of the farms.

The Biloxi tomale vendor, which visiting Bay St. Louisians remember so well standing on the corner of Hotel Avelez, was robbed of over five hundred dollars in cash the other night while out selling his product. Some one entered his dwelling and found the inner secret place where the fortune was tucked away. Banks offer permanent and guaranteed protection. The tomale vendor might be a sadder but wiser man. Possibly another example of the man who fails to read the ads.

POLICE BRUTALITY.

THE story from New York about the brutality of police in Mineola shocks the country. It seems that a prisoner died from the effects of a "third degree" given him by detectives and officers.

Every prisoner is entitled to have his day in court. Iron methods by police officers upon the assumption that a confession must be wrung from a guilty man prejudice the case and presume guilt.

Police officers often have hard cases. Very often questioning results in information leading to conviction. Often the prisoner subjected to a "third degree" is a dangerous character, and would massacre the officers if he had the opportunity.

The fact that these prisoners are often public enemies and would resort to violence in violation of law, does not justify men who are sworn officers of society in violating the same law. Police officers must follow recognized legal methods in apprehending crime.

The tragedy of allowing "third degree" brutality lies in the possibility of an over-zealous officer sometimes mistreating an innocent man. The law strives to surround a suspect with safeguards because it wants to be certain that no innocent man suffers. Such protection should not be abandoned.

The Bogalusa Enterprise copies the article recently appearing in these columns about public pier for Bay St. Louis, which is an indication of endorsement from outside source. It is agreed that nothing is more lacking for the coast watering resorts than a public pier and recreation center over the water. Fortunately are the points along the coast able to boast of such improvement. Both Waveland and Bay St. Louis are seriously contemplating such improvement.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE SAYING.

"A NEW DEAL"

If Franklin D. Roosevelt is elected President of the United States, this fall, the people may rest assured they will have a sincere friend as chief executive. It is the intention to restore America to its own people and give them what they want more than anything at this time.

"The welfare and soundness of the nation depends on what the great mass of the people need and whether or not they are getting it," he says. What do the people of America want more than anything else?

Work and security, according to Mr. Roosevelt. Work, with all the moral and spiritual values that go with work, and with work, a reasonable measure of security.

Mr. Roosevelt has pledged himself to a new deal for the American people. "We must constitute ourselves prophets of a newer life" he says. "This is more than a political campaign," declares the Democratic nominee. "It is a call to arms. Give me your help, not in votes alone, but to win in this crusade to restore America to its own people."

If there ever was a time when the people needed a champion of their cause in high authority that time is now. Gov. Roosevelt stands for the welfare of the common people. That fact alone should be sufficient to assure his election this fall.—McComb Journal.

THE WET PLANK.

It is admitted there are many dry Democrats who do not endorse the wet plank and it was not the intention of the Roosevelt people to put the wet plank in the platform. It was forced upon them by an overwhelming majority, and like good Democrats, they fell into line. The original purpose of the Roosevelt followers was simply to submit the question to the people and let them determine whether or not they wanted a change in the constitution.

It is argued however, on the other hands that the Democratic party met the issue squarely without equivocation, and not a miserable straddle like the Republicans had done. In a word, it was not a plank that said both yes and no at the same time.

This writer does not endorse the wet plank, but it will be remembered that the president has very little voice in the matter, as the Congress will be the determining factor, and it is said the dries will devote their energies to the election of dry congressmen.

Taken altogether, the outlook is very bright for Democracy.—Kosciusko Star-Herald.

HOOVER'S GESTURE

PRESIDENT Hoover, cuts his own salary 20 per cent and those of his cabinet officers 15 per cent.

This was the maximum reduction authorized under the economy bill. The president says he made the cabinet reduction "by unanimous request of members of the cabinet."

His voluntary salary reduction is another "noble gesture," made at the most auspicious political time. The saving to the taxpayers is microscopic compared with the savings that could have been made had President Hoover and his Republican congress really wanted to economize and to reduce waste and extravagance.

They waited until election year to make even this gesture. And considering the time, and the facts, and the record of the past three years, we are not unfair in noting the announcement with our tongue in our cheek.—Clarion-Ledger.

A QUIZ ON WORDS.

In a recent questionnaire sent to a number of eminent persons it was asked: "What word seems to you most annoyingly overused or misused?"

Among those suggested were: Intrigued, Kiddies, cute, awful, gorgeous, very, sure, nice, grand, glamorous, colorful and I.

Another question was: "What word in English comes to you most beautiful in sound?"

Replies include the following: Mother love, violet, lake, laughter, willow, melody and I. A well-known educator voted for payday, with which most teachers will agree, while a Mexican poet liked the sound of cupid's best.

In answer to the request to pick the most useful word in the language, these were suggested: No, yes, the, of and, in, it, have, do, and I. An editor thought eat the most useful.

It may be observed that the pronoun I was selected in answer to all three questions and a prominent physician declared it to be at once the most beautiful, the most useful and the most annoyingly overused of all words. Many of our readers will probably agree.—Madison County Herald.

Definitely Warned.

"What's happened, George?" she asked her husband who had got out to investigate.

"Puncture," he said briefly. "You ought to have been on the lookout for this," she gumbled.

"You remember the guide book informed you that there was a fork in the road."—Tid Bits.

WHAT ONE MAN CAN DO

(Editorial N. O. States)

TWENTY years ago, the town of Picaune, Miss., was a jumping-off place. It looked like the wrath of God, a sawmill shackery. The houses were tumble-down, the stores were a paralyzing horror, the streets were mud or dust, depending on the weather, it was without life or hope. It was just one of those places that flies like.

Today, Picaune is one of the neatest, pleasantest, delightful towns in the South—a model in arrangement, with paved streets, a substantial business district, pretty houses glorified by bright flowers and sweeping lawns, and a people that is the salt of the earth. There is a theater, a golf course, and an up-to-date hotel. It is one of those places you are glad to live in, if your work lies there; or to return to, if you are just a visitor.

The change is due to one man. To L. O. Crosby, head of the Goodyear Lumber Company, who lifted his head above the smokestacks of his sawmill, and saw the Promised Land into which he could lead the people of Picaune.

UPON the basis of the sawmill, he has been building an industry that uses the products of the forests, and so has added new pay-rolls to Picaune. Dimension-stuff for furniture makers; broom handles and small wooden toys; the manufacture of bus-bodies. Other manufacturing developments will be added in the coming months.

But he went deeper. He went into agricultural creation. "Back to the farm" was the motto of this sawmill operator.

As everybody knows, the most unfarm-minded people in the world are those who work in sawmills or live in sawmill towns. Nevertheless, Crosby has worked the miracle of creating a magnificent farm and orchard development. Corn, strawberries, orange trees, cowpeas, beans, tomatoes peach trees—you won't see better crops anywhere. There is a packing and shipping agency, and the products move to market under established brands and command a price. For everything that comes out of the ground, there is a cash-money market. And milk—the finest certified milk comes out of Picaune; chickens and eggs—production at a carload a day, and increasing.

Hundreds, thousands of acres of cutover pine wilderness are now producing new wealth. The largest planting of tung trees in the United States is near Picaune—10,000 acres, and the planting is to be increased by 15,000 acres this winter. The tung orchards are the particular inspiration of Mr. Lamont Rowland, one of the most energetic and one of the most productive men in this part of the country. The tung industry, he says, promises to be one of the most important developments of the South.

THERE are other towns that had more to start with than Picaune, more natural resources, more natural beauty. But they have not made the material progress that Picaune has, and they are not as pretty to the eye. Nor are the people as happy, as up-to-date, as progressive. They lack the inspiration of the One Man.

Most of the achievement in this world comes from some one man. It is almost impossible to expect a group, large or small, to work to a high end, without a leader. The One Man is he who attacks the impossible and wins, and drags the unwilling doubters behind him. Sometimes they forget the source of their power. They say it was their energy that enabled them to win, or the unusual opportunities of their community. But it is nothing of the kind. In the case of Picaune, it would be hard to find a place that had less in its favor, and that has done more; and our opinion is that Picaune is going to do and be a great deal more in the future than in the past.

The Slidell Sun, at one time an 8-page newspaper, and reduced its size to that of a postage stamp, as stated last week, now announces that it is really making money! It says the paper has always been ahead of the town and too big for the support given. Other communities might gain by the experience and knowledge of the Slidell Sun.

Judicial Wisdom

The defendant was being sued because his goat had eaten up the plaintiff's garden. The goat was in court and little attention was paid to him while witnesses were being chosen.

When the first witness was to be sworn they looked in vain for the Bible.

"Your honor," said the prosecuting attorney, "that goat has eaten the court's Bible."

"Well," gumbled the court, "make the witness kiss the goat. We can't adjourn court to get a new Bible."

TOWN OF PICAYUNE IS BEATING DEPRESSION

New Factories, New Jobs Created As Sawmill Diversifies To Utilize Waste Woods; L. O. Crosby Building Rich Community.

By Thomas Ewing Dabney

THERE is a man in Mississippi who is doing things in a bigger way than ever, and if he had never heard of the panic, "I'm getting ready for the future," he told about 40 of the business leaders of New Orleans who went to his home in the country Thursday to see if he had a fountain of youth—and hope—that would pep up their faltering steps and take the cataracts from their eyes.

They found he had. His fountain is the Southland a-gush with riches and possibilities. But whether they will benefit from drinking of his enthusiasm, is another question, for the same medicine doesn't work on all systems, and there is only one L. O. Crosby.

It's hardly necessary to add to that name, "of Picayune, and the Good-year Lumber Company," for L. O. Crosby's name is known to those who know what is worth knowing, as well as taxes, but in a different and refreshing sense.

He's one of the richest men in Mississippi, but he's as plain as an old shoe—cheap linen pants, no coat, a necktie that would saddle 50 cents gratefully, and a straw hat that suggested to indignant comparisons with the cupola-embellishment of the least opulent in the crowd; wrinkles that emphasized the clearness of his skin, and bushy eyebrows, slightly stooped under the load of optimism under which he has been staggering through life.

Rebuilds Community

That is the L. O. Crosby who has rebuilt the town of Picayune, who has reweaved the agricultural and industrial fabric of the section, and who has re-created the enthusiasm of a population, now busily employed, but which otherwise would be in the bread line.

He has kept wheels turning, he has found new jobs to take the place of old ones that disappeared, he has been the moving impulse behind new industry that will set the pace for this part of the South and will be a national example just as soon as the North is willing to accept inspiration from the South. He, and his works, typify the New South that is being forged in the fires of the war and post-war trials.

And those New Orleans, men as they looked at the works of him who is acting as if he had never heard of the panic, said to each other, "I never dreamed there was anything like this, so close to home." And one of them said, "Crosby is doing more for New Orleans than a great many of us are doing for our city." The rest nodded agreement.

A high compliment, that, for these were members of the Association of Commerce, earnest and enthusiastic workers for the common weal, the wheel horses in every public effort, the more energetic of the little band of faithfuls who respond to every call while the majority sit back and sneer, until the effort is a success, and then thumb a free ride; and an admission like that is not easy to make. It would not be made by less honest or less sincere or less earnest men.

Diversifies Industry

Picayune was a sawmill town. The sawmill is there, and is an important part in the economic life, but it is only a detail. A minor detail, as destiny is being re-fashioned there. For Crosby has carried lumbering operations into a diversified manufacture; he is building automobile bodies; he is opening farms; he is shipping vegetables; he is proving the possibilities of the tung industry.

Out of the lumber-waste that totaled about a million dollars a year, he is making broom handles, vegetable crates and other small articles that are shipped to many parts of the United States and to Cuba. He is cutting dimension stuff for the furniture makers of the nation. He is manufacturing wooden parts for the International Harvester Company. He is making crates for the shipment of heavy machinery abroad.

So even if the lumber business is as dead as a New Year's resolution the Crosby mills in Picayune are humming. A carload of broom handles a day, for instance, means a big payroll. A couple of months ago, he began to manufacture the bodies for school buses. On the line, Thursday were about a dozen buses in various stages of manufacture. A dozen or so have already rolled to their destination. From the way orders are coming in, Crosby predicts that he will turn out a thousand buses this year. They are not neighborhood jobs—they are rolling into many parts of Dixie—as far South as Florida, as far west as Texas, as far North as Birmingham. The Crosby buses are better—that's the answer.

The chassis are bought from the International Harvester Company, and upon them Crosby builds the bodies. In the years to come, this should be an impressive industry. A new industry.

50 New Jobs Created

Today, the industry occupies one part of one of the sheds in the sawmill section, yet it means employment for 50 men. Valuable for yourself what it will be when it is two years, instead of two months old.

To the far flung farms, Crosby took his guests—to the dairy, where blue blooded and prize-winning Jerseys yielded several hundred gallons of certified milk, and a hundred houses stretch for miles, seemingly, and the egg production is computable, on the tonnage basis; to the satsuma orchards, where trees taller than a man and broader than a wagon spread their back green monotone over the rolling country for as far as the eye can reach; to the peach orchards, hundreds of acres of them; to the cotton and corn and cowpeas and kudzu and potato and strawberry and tomato fields and to the tumbling miles of tung-oil plantings.

Crosby went into the agriculture to prove his theory that the land is good and will yield wealth. His main thought has been to encourage others to push farm development. To do that, he must have a market, and to have a market he must have a production that grades high and is heavy enough to command the most favorable transportation rates. He guarantees a market for everything that is produced within hauling distance of Picayune, and so he has established packing and shipping centers, and has made the market demand the Crosby brands. No wonder the people are farming! They benefit from his pioneering—saved the worst part of the struggle.

Crosby is now throwing the tremendous weight of his enthusiasm behind tung trees. This division of the work is under Lamont Rowland. Ten thousand acres are already in tung trees; and this winter, 15,000 acres more are going to be planted.

Wealth In Tung Trees

Already the Crosby tung planting is the largest individual holding in the United States. The tung tree yields a nut from which is extracted an oil used in the paint and varnish business, in linoleum manufacture and in many other industrial arts. China has heretofore been the only source of supply of tung oil, and its product is so inferior that the market is not as large as it should be, but is sufficiently impressive for all that. With a better grade of oil—such as can be produced under American methods—there is no estimating, now, the future demand, Crosby believes that half a million acres can be planted before anyone need worry about over-production, even under the consumption demands that can be foreseen now. The tung tree, he has found, thrives wonderfully upon cheap outcrop lands. Mr. Rowland estimates that it will cost about $75 an acre to clear, fence, post and cultivate that it will then net a return of 5 per cent on a valuation of $850, and improve steadily. Crosby is not selling stock or tung orchards, so his enthusiasm need not be questioned. Next year, he is putting up a crushing plant, for his acres will then be yielding a commercial crop—new wealth from old lands, an amazing return, if his estimates are borne out, upon the cheapest land in the South, the outcrop eyesores that caused depression even in the glory days.

No other, Master pray?
Ah yes, one at my feet,

So innocent and sweet.

GRETA GARBO STARTS TRIP TO HER HOME IN SWEDEN

Hollywood, July 23.—Greta Garbo today was on her way home to Sweden.

She boarded a train at San Bernardino, which will take her into New York on Monday.

After a week there she will embark on a steamer for Sweden. How long she will be gone or what she plans to do in Europe remained secrets.

This will be her second visit home in seven years.

Good news for extras is that Paramount will hire hundreds of them to film the great Italian retreat in Hemmingway's "A Farewell to Arms." . . . A plan to give employment and earning power to many in Mississippi has been worked out by Abe Cohen, of Woodville, who is state distributor for Buck Head Crystals, a product of Mineral Wells, Texas. Mr. Cohen whose advertisement appears in this paper, wants agents in every part of Mississippi to distribute these crystals which he claims will make a mineral water far superior to most man-made drugs, and one highly beneficial for rheumatism, diabetes, and kidney troubles.

The state convention of the Mississippi branch of the International Order of King's Daughters and Sons will be held in Jackson October 24, 25, 26, according to arrangements made by the state executive board at a meeting last week held in Jackson, and announced by the state president, Mrs. A. It will be remembered the State Convention was held in Bay St. Louis last year, one of the more successful ever held.

COMMENT ON SPORTS BY SHERIDAN

Gusto's Triumph Stella Walsh a Pole Americans Look Good Break 5 World's Records Hail Miss Dridrickson Londos and Lewis.

Gusto, grandson of Man o' War, is the new three-year old champion of the year. He won the Arlington Park Classic, worth $8,100 by coming up from the rear to pass the entire field and beat Stephenfitchit by three lengths. Gusto ridden by Silvio Coucci, sensational young jockey, was away last and carried the top weight of 126 pounds. After running back in the early stages, he circled the field on the outside and ended with a spectacular run. It was Gusto's second stake victory this year. About a month ago, he captured the American derby at Washington Park on a heavy track. In the classic he showed his speed on a fast track.

Stella Walsh decided to do her Olympic athletics for her native Poland just 24 hours before she was scheduled to take out naturalization papers. For two weeks, Miss Walsh was undecided but finally cast her lot with the Poles on the strength of a position in the Polish consulate in New York.

She is considered one of the leading feminine track and field stars, holding nearly a dozen track and field records and will go into the games with the almost certain victory in the discus, 100-meter dash and 400-meter relay. For several weeks it had been intimated that her allegiance in the Olympiad would be with the country making the most favorable business offer.

At the Olympic tryouts, held at Palo Alto, American track and field performers broke five world's records and tied two. The most remarkable was the pole vault of Bill Graber, of Southern California, who went over the bar cleanly and decisively for 14 feet and four and three-eighths inches. He broke one of the greatest records that had set for four years by nearly three inches. Just before, Bill Miller had joined Graber in going over the bar at 14 feet one and five-eighths inches or one-eighth inch better than Lee Barnes' record.

Bill Carr, of Penn, beat Ben Eastman, of Stanford in the 400-meter event making it in 0:46.9, a tenth of a second faster than Emerson Spencer's time. Joe McCluskey, of Fordham eclipsed the 3,000-meter steep-lechase figures with his 9:14.5 effort. Leo Sexton of the New York A. C. pared the universal standard in the shot-put with a heave of 52 feet 8 inches. John Anderson, of the same club, surpassed the discus figures with a throw of 165 feet, 54 inches.

Two world's records were tied. Jack Keller, of Ohio State, equalled the 100-meter hurdles time of 0:14.4 and Eddie Tolan, former Michigan ace, stepped 100 meters in the face of a blustery wind in 0:14.4 to equal the world's mark. On the next day in the finals, Ralph Metcalfe, Eddie Tolan and George Simpson won final places in the 100-meter dash in one of the most brilliantly run sprint races ever held, beating Frank Wykoff, Emmett Toppino and Jimmie Johnson. The six starters finished within a yard of each other, Metcalfe and Tolan slamming into the tape a foot apart. Simpson was inches behind and won third place and only inches separated the other three.

Miss Mildred (Babe) Dridrickson, Dallas, Texas insurance clerk, won single-handed the national A. A. U. track and field championship and incidentally, reserved for herself three places on the Olympic squad. In a big day's work she raced from one event to another, changing shoes between them, won five first places, tied for another and got one fourth place. She broke two world's records and tied another piling up thirty points for her club against the twenty-two that put a Chicago woman's record second. She will represent the United States in the javelin, hurdles and high jump in the Olympic games.

In her spectacular effort at Evans-ton, Ill. she won her favorite event, the 80-meter hurdles tied Miss Jean Shirley of Philadelphia, for first place in the running high jump at 5 feet, 3 and three-sixteenths inches, one-sixteenth better than the world's record, won the shotput at 39 feet, three-fourths inches to set a new world's record, won the broad jump with 17 feet, six and five-eighths in, flung the javelin, 139 feet, three inches to break her own world's record and in the baseball throw a non-Olympic event, she outclassed the field with 272 feet, two inches.

In the finals for the woman's swimming and diving team, held at Jones Beach, Long Island, Miss Helen Madison of Seattle, Washington, pre-eminent free style swimmer, lowered the world's record for the 400-m-

FOR THE PROTECTION OF FISH AND GAME

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC:

I take this method of informing you that the legislature of the State of Mississippi at its 1932 session passed a new game and fish law, you will find this in the 1932 laws house bill No. 116 and we would be delighted if every man or woman who fishes and hunts in the State of Mississippi would read this law that they might be familiar with its contents.

Section 17 of this act sets out the duties of the executive officers and which reads as follows: Any violation or attempt to violate any of the provisions of this Act, or any law of regulation for the protection of wild animals, birds, or fish shall constitute and is hereby declared a misdemeanor. All Sheriffs, Deputy Sheriffs, Constables and Peace Officers of this State are hereby made Ex-Officio Special Game and Fish Wardens and it shall be their duty to aid in the enforcement of such laws or regulations.

Mr. Hunter Kimball residing in Jackson, has been appointed State Game Warden and it is his earnest desire that all executive officers in each county of the state co-operate with the conservation commission in the enforcement of this law.

The executive force of Hancock County unanimously agrees to co-operate with Mr. Kimball and use every means possible to protect the game and the fish until the season opens. We are posting notices along the lines of this county and instructing our deputies to see that this law is not violated. I am an old hunter and I have found that one of the main evils or one of the main reasons why this law is not bringing results is due to the fact that the local game wardens and the executive officers of the county do not attempt to enforce this law until after the season is open. We need this protection earlier in the season and our officers here are now on the job and will prosecute to the full extent of the law any one hunting in this county until the season is open and the proper license secured. They will also prosecute to the full extent of the law any non resident fishing in the lakes or streams of this county who has not already procured the necessary license at the initiative cost of $5.00.

We sincerely hope that every citizen of Hancock County will co-operate with this office giving such information as will lead to the apprehension of any one violating this law. Such information will be treated strictly confidential and we believe it is the intention and certainly the duty of every citizen to give us this information.

T. E. KELLAR, Sheriff.

ter free style to 5:32 two-fifths, beating the established time of Miss Martha Norelius in Vienna in 1928 by seven and one-fifth seconds. Miss Eleanor Holm, of New York, outstanding back-stroke swimmer, took more than two seconds off the world's mark in making the 100-meter back-stroke event in 1:18 one-fifth. The former record was held by Miss Bonnie Mealing of Australia.

Also outstanding was the performance of Miss Lenore Knight in the 400-meter final. Her time was less than five seconds slower than that of Miss Madison and was better than the previous world's record. Her competition pressed the champion all the way and forced her to make a dazzling pace.

Whether Jimmy Londos will wrestle Strangler Lewis to settle the much disputed heavyweight wrestling crown remains to be seen but unless the Greek goes to the mat with the Strangler, he will have to do his fighting in way-side places. The New York Commission, which two years ago recognized Londos as champion, deposed him this summer for refusing to meet Lewis in New York and bars him from further participation until he does. Commissions of Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Maryland Missouri and California have also put up their bars against Londos. While the Greek has saved enough money to defy the various commissions it is likely as a matter of pride that he will prefer to wrestle Lewis before long.

Something new in the way of boxing is the rule adopted by the Illinois Athletic commission, whereby the announcer at the end of each round, will announce the scoring of the referee and the two judges. This will probably cause no end of argument and demonstrations. Many of the judges, as is well known, are appointed through political friends and are inexperienced and lack judgment. Often they are enthusiastic for one boxer or the other and cannot steel themselves against favoritism. Referees usually prefer to work alone rather than have two doubtful judges on hand. In fact, some writers say that Referee George Black stopped the Stribling-Schmeling fight at Cleveland twenty seconds from the end in order to award the victory to Schmeling without giving the two judges, a song-writer and a tailor, a chance to boot the decision.

More than 854,000 tickets to the Olympic events were sold two weeks ahead of the opening day. This is twice the advance sale of any previous Olympiad. News from Europe is that Mrs. Helen Wills Moody may not return to this country in time to defend her national title at Forest Hills in August.

SUGGESTIONS FOR GROWING FALL CROP IRISH POTATOES

By R. H. Bryson
Hancock County Agent.

A fall crop of Irish potatoes in South Mississippi has always proved profitable to the producers where a good stand was secured because of the good keeping qualities and the local demand affording a satisfactory market price.

Getting a stand of fall Irish potatoes is the greatest trouble connected with growing the crop. It is especially difficult to get the spring-grown seed to germinate when planted in mid-summer. The new potatoes are going through a rest period at this time, and as a rule, cannot be sufficiently awakened by planting them to cause them to germinate. Some method of sprouting must be resorted to. Spreading the potatoes in a cool place, excluding the light by covering with wet grass or sacks and keeping moist for a week or ten days will usually cause sprouting to start.

A new and quick method, however, has been lately found that will enable one to treat the spring-grown seed with a chemical just a day or two before time to plant and with good results. This chemical is known as Ethylene Chlorhydrin and has the effect of waking the potato, or to bring it out of the rest period and cause it to germinate, thus making it possible to get a stand from the spring-grown seed when planted for fall crop.

This method of treatment has been

Clerk—May I have a week's leave to get married?
Chief—But I seem to remember that you had a week off last year for the same purpose.

A LITTLE GIRL CAME BY.

I sat alone in an empty house
And a little girl came by.
She was sweet as a rose and as shy as a mouse
And as high as my heart is high.

She said not a word as she went on her way
Down the long dusty road by my door.
I never have glimpsed her again since that day
I never had seen her before.

She passed like a vision of beauty and grace,
Unaware of my worship, I know.
Of her sweet little foot-prints, there lingers no trace
On the grass or the dust or the snow.

But the smile on her face is as fresh in my heart
As the blossom that swings at my gate,
And the fond recollections she left with me start
A flood-tide of joys while I wait.

I am sitting alone in that same empty house.
I am watching and hoping for her.
There is never a sound but the stir of a mouse,
Or the tap of the tail of a cur.

I wonder what Fortune has walked by her side?
To me she is always the same.
Did love bear her off as his own blushing bride?
Does she wear fairest garlands of fame?

I wonder if children have sat on her knees
With warm baby lips at her breast?
I wonder if breezes in green willow trees
Blow soft where her sweet ashes rest?

Through the long flight of years with their gold and their gray,
She has danced like an elf in my dreams.
She has turned every task of my life into play
As thrilling as troubadours' themes.

I sat alone in an empty house
And a little girl came by.
She was sweet as a rose and as shy as a mouse
And as high as my heart is high.

CONNOR WILL TAKE STUMP TO EXPLAIN SALES TAX RESULT

Tour of State to Follow
Close of Primary Campaigns.

Mississippians soon are to hear all about the workings of the general sales and gross income tax directly from Governor Sennett Connor himself.

The chief executive made public plans for a "stumping tour" of the state in the interest of the sales tax, which has been in effect three months.

"Just as soon as the primary campaigns are out of the way I am going to take the stump and tell the people of our state just how our new tax is operating," said the governor. He explained that he desired to wait until the campaigns were over in order to avoid charges that his "stumping tour" was being conducted in the interest of some candidate or candidates.

"Ninety-nine per cent of the merchants of the state are co-operating wholeheartedly in paying—and reporting the tax," said the governor, "and the customers are co-operating nearly 100 per cent."

The chief executive asserted that the 1 per cent of merchants who "may not be co-operating as they should," are going to be investigated by the State Tax Commission and "brought to law."

Governor Connor is enthusiastic over the interest the new levy is attracting, both within and outside the state.

James F. Thames

is a candidate for re-election as Highway Commissioner of the Southern District.

Jim Thames should and will be elected.

Above all other things, this job demands an honest man. No man has ever questioned Jim Thames' honesty. No suspicion of graft, stealing or dishonesty appears concerning anything that he has dealt with. Compare this with the charges that are publicly brought in highway affairs in Tennessee, Arkansas and other places.

As Highway Commissioner, Jim Thames has helped reduce the cost of up-keep on state roads the magnificent sum of over a MILLION DOLLARS in the last two years. Four hundred and fifty-eight miles of Mississippi roads have been graveled; one hundred and twelve miles of concrete roads have been built; thirty-five miles of roads have been saved by straightening curves, etc., and a number of new bridges have been built by the Commission of which Thames is a member. Of these improvements, the Southern District has received its proportionate part.

Yes, Jim Thames has made enemies. We repeat that he is honest. He has refused to let contracts except to the lowest bidders. He has declined to show favoritism. He has refused to be a tool of designing politicians. And, because of lack of funds, he has been unable to give jobs to all who have applied. Therefore, of course, he has made enemies.

This campaign is one in which the issue must be: "Shall the people rule?" Jim Thames believes in the rule of the people. This is why he fought the infamous "Dictator" bill before the Legislature. They tried to legislate Jim Thames out of office which the people gave him. This effort was a failure. Now, the effort is to try to beat Jim Thames and elect somebody else who will prove a willing dummy.

No road contractors, material or equipment companies are furnishing money for Thames. No politicians are expecting to use him when he is elected.

If you believe in honesty, efficiency, and the rule of the people, vote for Jim Thames.

Stressing the benefits to accrue from such point of contact and fellowship gained by association in Rotary, Rev. Father R. J. Kirscheneuter, C. M., of St. Thomas Seminary, Denver, Colo., visitor to Bay St. Louis addressed the local business men's club at the Oriole luncheon Wednesday. The reverend gentleman while here on visit last summer appeared before the same organization and his return was anticipated.

We were seventeen in one section or cell and I think there were only three cots. Of course, I could not sleep nor could anyone else. I sat within a window sill or ledge all night."
